

Venus Rules the Fifth House

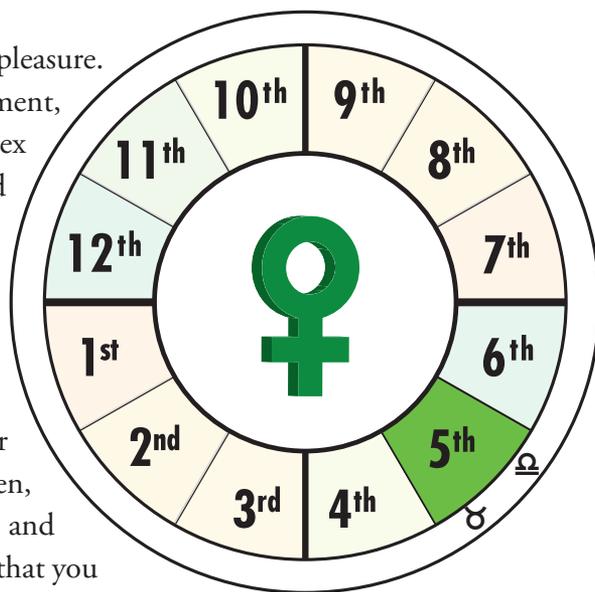

The Fifth House is the house of fun and pleasure. It contains all forms of entertainment, amusement, and creativity, including sex and children. It's the house of gambling, luck, and risk (which, in a sense, also covers sex and children).

The Fifth House is your creativity.

Creativity is the fundamental urge of all life. Biologically, you create through procreation. Your children carry your DNA, and through your children, a piece of your unique identity lives on in the world and has a life outside of you. But biology is only one way that you create, and it's one of the least important. Everything about your life is an expression of your creativity, whether you are conscious of it or not. When you think of creative expression, you probably think of different types of entertainment and art, such as painting, drawing, writing, performing, acting, singing, or dancing. Many people express their creativity in the kitchen, or through their hobbies. But it's important to expand your definition of creativity even further.

An artist may use oil paints as her medium for creative expression. A musician uses an instrument to create. A singer uses her voice to create. A dancer uses his body to create. But underneath these external creative expressions, the planet that rules your Fifth House is the actual medium of your creative expression. Meeting the needs of that planet requires that you tap into your creativity. You need to question everything about that planet, and view it from different contexts and environments. You are driven to explore a new relationship to the needs of that planet, and to share your discoveries with the world.

Remember that what you define as "art" is not the only way that you can express your creativity. You access your creativity every time you encounter the unknown or follow your curiosity. Creativity is how you solve problems and accomplish your goals. And if you're ready to consider the big picture, remember that your consciousness—the vibrational frequency of your thoughts—creates your entire reality. Your very life is the expression of your creativity. And the more you become conscious of your creative energy and master the medium of your creativity, the more you can create a reality that you enjoy.

The Fifth House is your recreation and risk.

The Fifth House is your entertainment and amusement. The ruler of the Fifth House is your idea of fun. Fun is a subjective concept, and what amuses and entertains you may not be someone else's idea of a good time. As Mary Poppins sang, "In every job that must be done, there is an element of fun. You find the fun and snap, the job's a game." Deep down, you know that everything related to your Fifth House, and everything related to the needs and expression of the planet that rules the Fifth House is just a game. You can recognize the game and still take it seriously. Recognizing the game just allows you to enjoy the journey, the competition, and the challenges of pursuing the needs of the planet that rules the Fifth House. But knowing that it's just a game means you are more willing to take risks while playing it.

The Fifth House also represents your tolerance for risk. Taking risks, flirting with danger, and gambling with what you have for the chance to acquire much more is all a part of the fun of the game. You are willing to take risks with the needs of the planet that rules your Fifth House, and you are willing to take risks to further the agenda of that planet. And you are apt to have a much higher tolerance for risk with the affairs of that planet than you do in the rest of your life. Playing it safe is always an option, but playing it safe isn't much fun.

Venus Rules the Fifth House

Your validation needs are your creativity; your creativity is your validation needs.

Not only are your validation needs your creativity, love and appreciation is the medium and the instrument of your creative expression. Artists express their creativity with paints; singers express their creativity with music; you express your creativity with your love and appreciation. When you maintain the minimum required balance in your Validation Need Account, creativity and inspiration flow through your life. When you have an idea, it easily manifests and takes physical form in your reality. You think outside the proverbial box, and always find ways to share your unique perspective with the world. But when you fail to meet your own validation needs and expect other people to meet them for you, you feel limited and barren. You lack inspiration. The world becomes drab and monotonous. You've seen it all before, and you don't believe you can change it. On a personal level, when you don't feel loved or appreciated, you find it hard to care about anything in your life. You go through the motions, but you settle for the bare minimum. You want to express your creativity because you believe that when you tap into the energy of creation (which is the energy of life), you won't experience rejection or abandonment because you're unworthy of love.

You long to experience Unity and the truth that you are neither separate nor isolated from the Universe. You look for this through connections to other individuals where you can experience love and appreciation. Even though other people have access to your Validation Need Account and can make deposits and withdrawals, you are responsible for maintaining the minimum balance on your own. The more you look outside of yourself for validation, the harder it will be to manage your own validation needs. But when you learn to love and appreciate yourself and develop healthy self-esteem, the dynamic in all of your relationships transforms. You especially need to experience love and appreciation related to your creativity. When you create something, you want other people to admire it and praise it. Not only do you want people to appreciate what you created, but you also want people to acknowledge you for how creative you are. But when the primary objective of creativity becomes external approval, your creative juices stop flowing.

You can learn to monitor your Validation Need Account and maintain the minimum required balance on your own by engaging with your creativity. Begin by identifying your current creative outlets. Remember, creativity isn't limited to artistic expression. You tap into your creativity whenever you are faced with a challenge or obstacle to overcome, and you express your creativity when you create anything. Make a conscious connection between your experience of love and appreciation and your current creative outlets. Notice how the more you embody love and appreciation, the more you experience your creativity. Now, consider how love and appreciation shows up in other parts of your life, and explore new ways that you can be creative with how you express and embody love and appreciation. You will discover that developing your gratitude muscles is the best way to keep yourself inspired and in the creative flow. And when you create an experience of gratitude and experience gratitude as you create, you no longer need external approval. The more you meet your own validation needs and love and appreciate yourself, the more you will be able to express your creativity.

Your validation needs are your recreation and risk; your recreation and risk are your validation needs.

Love and appreciation is your idea of fun. You enjoy the challenge of meeting your validation needs, and your Validation Need Account is where you glimpse the truth that everything about this human experience is a game. This is why you are willing to take bigger risks with love and appreciation and in pursuit of validation than you are in other parts of your life. When you maintain the minimum required balance in your Validation Need Account, you are endlessly amused and entertained by your life. You don't take anything too seriously and you can see the humor in almost any situation. But when you fail to meet your own validation needs and expect other people to meet them for you, you don't see the joke. Life is serious and the stakes are far too high to take chances. You must win at all costs, and you take no pleasure in playing the game. On a personal level, when you don't feel loved or appreciated, you always play it safe. You pass up opportunities because you're not willing to risk losing what you have to gain something better. You want to take risks because risks are what make life fun, and you believe that when you find the fun in your life, you won't experience rejection or abandonment because you're unworthy of love.

You long to experience Unity and the truth that you are neither separate nor isolated from the Universe. You look for this through connections to other individuals where you can experience love and appreciation. Even though other people have access to your Validation Need Account and can make deposits and withdrawals, you are responsible for maintaining the minimum balance on your own. The more you look outside of yourself for validation, the harder it will be to manage your own validation needs. But when you learn to love and appreciate yourself and develop healthy self-esteem, the dynamic in all of your relationships transforms. You especially need to experience love and appreciation related to recreation and risk. You want other people to admire you for your courage and your willingness to take risks. And you are the most willing to take risks to experience or express love and appreciation.

You can learn to monitor your Validation Need Account and maintain the minimum required balance on your own by engaging with your recreation and risk. Begin by considering how you have fun, and especially how you have fun playing games. Notice how important love and appreciation are to you when you play games, and how if you're not receiving deposits in your Validation Need Account, the game isn't fun for you. Now consider your validation needs in the rest of your life. Notice how, for you, validation itself is a game. You may play to win, and you definitely use strategy and planning to calculate how much you are willing to risk losing for the chance to leap forward, but the entire point of meeting your validation needs is amusement and entertainment. If you're not having fun, you're going about it the wrong way. But when you start having fun with it, your experience of love and appreciation transforms. The more you meet your own validation needs and love and appreciate yourself, the more you will take chances on new opportunities and have fun in the process.

Artists express their creativity with paints; singers express their creativity with music; you express your creativity with your Core Values. When you experience the presence of your Core Values and tune to the vibration of those qualities, creativity and inspiration flow through your life. Because these qualities exist in all things at all times, they also exist in you, and you can never be separated from them. Recognizing this truth can be challenging. Not only do you have a narrow and limited set of expectations of what these qualities look like (which is what makes it so easy for you to overlook them), but you also expect to see evidence of your Core Values in the outside world. You especially expect to recognize your Core Values in your creativity, and you are frequently disappointed. Consider which of the Core Values is the most absent from your experience of your creativity. That's the Core Value that is the most important to you right now. You need to discover what it really feels like so you can begin to recognize it in your life.

The easiest way for you to discover and experience the feeling of your Core Values is to engage with your creativity. Begin by identifying your current creative outlets. Notice how the more you embody your Core Values, the more you experience your creativity. Now, consider how your Core Values show up in other parts of your life, and explore new ways that you can be creative with how you recognize, express and embody your Core Values. The more you recognize the presence of your Core Values in your life, the more you will be able to express your creativity.
