

Venus Rules the Eleventh House

The Eleventh House is the house of acquisition. It contains all of the things you believe you need to obtain or acquire to be happy. It's the pursuit of happiness, but not the experience of happiness (which belongs to the First House). Friends are associated with the Eleventh House, but the original context of that term has shifted. Eleventh House friends are benefactors. These are the people who help you to reach your goals, attain your aspirations, and acquire what you think you need to be happy.

The Eleventh House is your ambitions and acquisitions.

The planet that rules your Eleventh House is what you believe you need to acquire to be happy. Your personal ambitions, aspirations, and dreams are really about embodying that planet, meeting its needs, and fully understanding how that Universal Puzzle Piece fits in your life. The first challenge is that you don't entirely believe that these qualities live inside you. You see them clearly in the outside world, and you believe that you need to go out and obtain them. Specifically, you believe that when you finally obtain those qualities, and realize your ambitions and your dreams, then you'll finally be happy. The Eleventh House is your pursuit of happiness; actual happiness belongs to the First House. But when you move into right relationship with the planet that rules your Eleventh House, you will realize that happiness is the journey, not the destination.

Everyone needs dreams. Dreams are what inspire you to take action. They can give your life meaning and purpose. Even impossible or unattainable dreams have value once you remember that they're not all-or-nothing scenarios. Your dream of winning American Idol probably won't come true, but what that dream is really about is the inspiration to sing and to make music. If you follow that call and begin to sing because singing makes you happy, the path could lead you anywhere. As you follow the path, you will set new goals and discover new dreams, and those dreams will become progressively more attainable. But remember that what your dreams are really about is expressing and meeting the needs of the planet that rules your Eleventh House. When you follow that star, your dreams can come true.

The Eleventh House is your benefactor.

The planet that rules your Eleventh House is your benefactor. A benefactor is more than just a friend; it's a friend with money. Benefactors are friends who are willing to invest in your happiness and your success. They provide material support to help you achieve your personal ambitions and aspirations. You experience your benefactors as other individuals, and often, the support they provide appears to come out of nowhere and to have nothing at all to do with you. But this is just the external appearance. Your real benefactor is the planet that rules your Eleventh House, and the amount of support and encouragement you experience depends on how well you meet the needs and learn the lessons of that planet.

You may not notice your benefactor because it doesn't always show up as a person, and the support you receive isn't always financial. Sometimes all you need to make progress towards your dreams and aspirations is to meet the needs of the planet that rules the Eleventh House. When you embody and express that energy and master those lessons, you advance towards your goals and your dreams get a little bit closer. Other times, because you have tuned into that energy, other people will show up in your life and provide you with encouragement and support. When you are in right relationship with the planet that rules your Eleventh House, your friends genuinely want to see you succeed. That may not translate into dollars and cents, but that's because that kind of support is priceless.

Venus Rules the Eleventh House

Your validation needs are your aspirations and acquisitions; your aspirations and acquisitions are your validation needs.

Validation is your aspiration: you hope to achieve it. But you don't believe that love is within you. It exists somewhere in the world, and you hope to acquire it. You believe that when you achieve your aspirations and acquire love and appreciation, then you'll be happy. When you maintain the minimum required balance in your Validation Need Account, you live your dreams and pursue your aspirations. Even if your goals are lofty and hard to attain, you still pursue them. The journey itself makes you so happy that the destination becomes less important. But when you fail to meet your own validation needs and expect other people to meet them for you, your dreams are unattainable because you don't pursue them. You know you won't win American Idol, so you don't bother to sing at all. You set goals that are so high that you can't imagine reaching them, and then wonder why your life lacks any purpose. On a personal level, when you don't feel loved or appreciated, you are unhappy with your life, but you lack the inspiration to do anything about it. You think the only way to be happy is to realize your dreams, and you mistakenly believe that happiness only exists at the destination. Having ambitions and aspirations is important because pursuing your dreams gives meaning and purpose to your life. You believe that when you have inspiration and motivation to pursue your dreams, you won't experience rejection or abandonment because you're unworthy of love.

You long to experience Unity and the truth that you are neither separate nor isolated from the Universe. You look for this through connections to other individuals where you can experience love and appreciation. Even though other people have access to your Validation Need Account and can make deposits and withdrawals, you are responsible for maintaining the minimum balance on your own. The more you look outside of yourself for validation, the harder it will be to manage your own validation needs. But when you learn to love and appreciate yourself and develop healthy self-esteem, the dynamic of your relationships transforms. You especially need to experience love and appreciation with your aspirations and acquisitions. You imagine that when you realize your dreams you will be showered with love and appreciation. You want to experience love and appreciation while you pursue your dreams, too. In fact, your dreams are really about experiencing love and appreciation. You must learn that the best way to realize those dreams is to look within yourself.

You can learn to monitor your Validation Need Account and maintain the minimum required balance on your own by engaging with your aspirations and acquisitions. Consider your dreams and aspirations. Make sure you include youthful dreams that you may have abandoned long ago because you felt they were unreasonable. Look at your ambitions, past and present, with fresh eyes, and notice how they all involve acquiring love and appreciation. When you pursue love and appreciation, you are energized and motivated, and on the way to happiness. Choose a dream. Dust off one of your discarded dreams or create a new one, but be conscious that the dream is really about experiencing love and appreciation. Keep that dream in mind and build your gratitude muscles by expressing love and appreciation for everything related to that dream and for anything else you encounter. The more you meet your own validation needs and love and appreciate yourself, the more your dreams and aspirations will inspire and motivate you.

Your validation needs are your benefactor; your benefactor is your validation needs.

Validation is your benefactor. When you meet your validation needs, you receive tangible support that helps you pursue your ambitions and personal aspirations. Sometimes that support shows up out of the blue as unexpected money or opportunity, and other times that support shows up in the form of a friend who believes in you and is willing to lend a helping hand. When you maintain the minimum required balance in your Validation Need Account, you are surrounded by support and encouragement. Other people are excited by your ambitions and your goals, and they are eager to help you to achieve them. Money shows up when you need it, and so does advice, guidance, and introductions to people who can help you even more. But when you fail to meet your own validation needs and expect other people to meet them for you, you have to pursue your ambitions on your own. No one in your life offers you encouragement, let alone financial backing. Opportunities do not tend to work out, and no matter how hard you knock, doors remain closed to you. On a personal level, when you don't feel loved or appreciated, even your friends don't believe in you. They will probably listen to you talk about your dreams, but that's the extent of their support. They may not root for you to fail, but they don't expect you to succeed. You care about the support of your benefactors because they make it easier for you to achieve your dreams and ambitions. And you believe that when you achieve your goals you won't experience rejection or abandonment because you're unworthy of love.

You long to experience Unity and the truth that you are neither separate nor isolated from the Universe. But when you learn to love and appreciate yourself and develop healthy self-esteem, the dynamic of your relationships transforms. You especially need to experience love and appreciation related to your benefactor. Your benefactor provides love and appreciation. You rely on your benefactor to make deposits in your Validation Need Account, but your benefactor really supports you by helping you to manage your validation needs on your own.

You can learn to monitor your Validation Need Account and maintain the minimum required balance on your own by engaging with your benefactor. Think back on your life and identify the people who have supported you by helping you to achieve your ambitions and aspirations. For the moment, focus on individuals who gave you some kind of tangible assistance, financial or otherwise. Consider that whatever form of help they provided, that help was really about love and appreciation. They either helped you because of your ability to express love and appreciation, or they helped you by contributing to your experience of love and appreciation. Now consider how you engage with love and appreciation in other parts of your life. You will discover a direct connection between how well you practice gratitude and express love and appreciation and how much other people want to support you in your dreams and aspirations. The more you meet your own validation needs and love and appreciate yourself, the more material support you will receive to pursue your ambitions.
